DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

1. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- I. Claims 1-19, 43-48 and 59-62, drawn to a first product, a polynucleotide encoding a codeinone reductase enzyme, and a method of using said polynucleotide.
- II. Claims 20-28, drawn to a second product, an enzyme.
- III. Claims 29-51, drawn to a third product, a transformed cell, callus or plant, and a method of making said plant.
- IV. Claims 52-53, drawn to a fourth product, a straw.
- V. Claims 54-56, drawn to a fifth product, an alkaloid, and a method of making an alkaloid.
- VI. Claims 57-58, drawn to a second method of making an alkaloid.

2. Applicants are reminded that different nucleotide sequences are structurally distinct chemical compounds and are unrelated to one another. These sequences are thus deemed to normally constitute independent and distinct inventions within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 121. Absent evidence to the contrary, each such nucleotide sequence is presumed to represent an independent and distinct invention, subject to a restriction requirement pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 121 and 37 CFR 1.141 et seq.

3. Upon election of a group, Applicant is also required to select one nucleotide sequence representing *codeinone reductase, from among Figures 1-10. This requirement is not to be construed as a requirement for an election of species, since each nucleotide sequence is not a member of single genus of invention, but constitutes an independent and patentably distinct invention.

4. According to PCT Rule 13.2, the groups lack unity of invention with one another when they do not share all the special or corresponding technical features. In this case, unity of invention is broken by differences in specific nucleotide structures among the Markush claims as well as by differences in group categories.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

A) The invention has no special technical feature that defined the contribution over the prior art, or

B) Unity of invention between different categories of inventions will only be found to exist if specific combinations of inventions are present. Those combinations include:

- 1) A product and a special process of manufacture of said product.
- 2) A product and a process of use of said product.
- 3) A product, a special process of manufacture of said product, and a process of use of said product.
- 4) A product and an apparatus specially designed to carry out said process.
- 5) A product, a special process of manufacture of said product, and an apparatus specially designed to carry out said process.

In the instant case,

A) Groups I-V are not linked by a technical feature, as polynucleotides, proteins, living organisms, straw and alkaloids do not share a common structure and function, and

B) The allowed combinations do not include multiple products (polynucleotides, proteins, living organisms, straw and alkaloids) and multiple methods of making a product (alkaloid) as claimed in the instant application; See MPEP § 1850.

Applicant's claims encompass multiple inventions and do not have a special technical feature which links the inventions one to the other and they thus lack unity of invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
